

Five Potential
Reasons Why Car
Buyers May Hesitate
To Import A Car From Germany

Online Payment (200 Votes)

18%

Can't Find Wished Car (49 Votes)

4%

Don't Know How It Works (218 Votes)

20%

It Is Expensive (103 Votes)

9%

I am First-time Buyer, Need Help (421 Votes)

39%

My Car Could Be Stranded (63 Votes)

5%

1054

Votes

Car Buyers' Views On Car Importation From Germany

1. Lack of Familiarity with the Process
2. Concerning Online Payment
3. Fear of the Car Being Stranded
4. Perceived High Cost
5. Administrative Bottlenecks

1) Lack of Familiarity with the Process:

Buyers may be first-time importers and need help understanding how the process works.

2) Concerning Online Payment:

Some buyers may be worried about online payments for vehicle purchases.

3) Fear of the Car Being Stranded:

Newcomers in the industry fear their cars being stranded in Germany.

4) Perceived High Cost:

Some buyers may perceive the importation process as expensive.

5) Administrative Bottlenecks:

Some people do not want to venture into the importation of cars because of the administrative bottlenecks.

And the seemingly hectic processes involved buying, picking, shipping, and clearing their autos from customs.

We will address the concerns with proper guidance and support during importation below.

Get More Details